

ANNA MOOG

Singer – Artist – Presenter – Creator

The Georgian soprano Anna Moog, described by the press as possessing a “brilliant, hall-filling voice,” captivates audiences with her emotional and versatile performances. She studied at the State Conservatory in Tbilisi and at the University of Music and Dance in Cologne. Her concert and opera engagements have already taken her to numerous European countries, as well as to Russia, Georgia, and the United States.

Her appearances include performances at the Deutsche Oper am Rhein and the Badisches Staatstheater Karlsruhe. She has also received important artistic inspiration through masterclasses with internationally renowned singers.

Anna Moog is a prizewinner of prestigious competitions, including the Lions Club Cologne Song Competition and the Rheinsberg Chamber Opera. Her wide-ranging repertoire spans Baroque, contemporary, and crossover works, always seeking dialogue between different musical epochs.

Since 2016, she has collaborated with the international piano manufacturer KAWAI, presenting its instruments in numerous German cities. In addition to her solo performances, she regularly works with international musicians, curates unique concert programs, and leads artistic projects in Germany and Spain.
